108 Gettysburg High School Seniors Receive Diplomas In Auditorium; Hear Dr. Langsam

"Freedom is not only everyone's right but everyone's job and only the person to whom freedom means duties as well as privileges is truly a useful citizen," Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Gettysburg College, told members of the graduating class of Gettysburg High School Sunday evening at baccalaureate-commencement exercises.

An estimated 1,300 persons nearly filled the new auditorium at the school, being used for the first time for the graduation ceremonies.

Diplomas were presented by Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, to 108 seniors. High School Principal G. W. Lefever presided over the exercises. The High School Choir directed by Paul W. Grove sang special selections and music for the exercises was provided by the Senior High School band under the baton of Robert G. Zeigler.

Dr. Keefe Speaks
After an academic procession into the auditorium that was rushed to completion only last week to be ready for the exercises the ceremonies got under way with the invocation by Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church. The benediction was by the Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., pastor of the local Methodist Church.

Before presenting the diplomas Dr. Keefe spoke briefly to the seniors about the responsibilities their achievements carry with them. "How well you carry on from here with the training you have received depends largely upon your own decisions, your own common sense," he said.

The text of Dr. Langsam's address follows:

"Members of the Class of '55! This is the hour! For the moment you are still seniors; but in a few minutes you will be alumni. The diplomas which you are about to receive will be physical proof before the world that you have completed the exacting academic requirements set by the faculty of Gettysburg High School.

"But your alma mater, I am sure, hopes that you will take with you something more than formal knowledge. It hopes that you are now prepared to go out into the world as truly free young men and free young women. Allow me, therefore, to speak for just a few minutes on the meaning of freedom.

"Some people use the word freedom recklessly. They imply that it means the right to anything they please, anything they 'feel like' (Continued On Page 3)

John Gunther, author, commentator and world traveler, said that he does not think there will be another world war, and he told the graduating class at the 123rd Gettysburg College Commencement exercises Sunday afternoon that "with reasonable good luck, we may have a gradual lessening of tensions, and you may look forward to many peaceful years in going out on your great adventure."

doing. When we urge such persons carefully to consider a contemplated action, they usually respond by saying: 'Oh, that's all right. I can go ahead if I want to. After all, I'm grown-up and free.'

Assume Wrong Causes

"Other people use their so-called freedom as an excuse to get out of doing a job that they know ought to be done, but which they are too lazy to do. Sometimes the word is used without understanding and leads people to disregard the experience of others; they think that freedom means the right to make their own mistakes. Sometimes, finally, people think they are exercising freedom when they merely accept ready-made political formulas and blindly take up causes that are idealistic on the surface, but are rotten beneath that surface."

"Now the question arises, are these men and women really exercising freedom? Have they thought intelligently about freedom and do they know what it really means? Hardly! Rather, they are slaves — slaves to their own appetites, slaves to laziness or to ignorance, slaves to material things, or to thoughtlessness. They think, if they think about such things at all, that freedom is a one-way affair. They think that to be free means to have things come their way. They do not know that the really free person also gives. To him freedom means the right to contribute his best talents and efforts for the benefit of his fellowman. Yes, the free man is a busy man. He works hard and does good, in understanding and appreciation of his freedom."

Four Freedoms

"During the Second World War there was much talk about freedom. It was mentioned particularly in the oft-quoted phrase not merely about freedom, but about the 'Four Freedoms.' These, some of you will remember, were first defined in 1941 as 'freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, and freedom from fear.' These obviously are noble goals. As a combination they made an inspiring fighting slogan during the war. The 'Four Freedoms' is still a good slogan today, long after the war."

"The four freedoms propose that you and I shall be allowed to speak freely what is on our minds; that you and I may worship God as we see fit or not worship Him at all; that you and I may worship Him as we see fit or not worship Him at all; that you and I shall have plenty to eat and proper clothing to wear and a comfortable home; and that you and I shall be able to enjoy all these blessings without fear that they may be taken away from us by a strong, greedy, and power-seeking neighbor. Surely, these are attractive ideals, which fill us with a warm glow."

"And yet — and yet, I think that even these famous four freedoms do not wholly comprise the true meaning of freedom. Are not all the items we have just considered still of a one-sided, largely selfish nature? They provide for being able to talk as we please, pray as we please, eat as we please, and in all these pleasures be protected and guarded against arbitrary interference. Again, not one word about giving, not a hint of service, of responsibility, of obligation, of duty, of work — except perhaps in a general way the idea that not only should we ourselves be allowed to enjoy all these good things, but that we should help others to get similar pleasures out of life."

"Won By Faith"

"Again I say, it is not freedom merely to enjoy the four freedoms. It is not enough even to express occasional thanks for these freedoms through word of mouth. For where freedom exists, it was won by faith in God, by hard work, and by the willing assumption of responsibility. And only by more faith and more hard work and more assumption of responsibility can it be maintained and spread."

"Especially dear to most Americans are the challenging words of the Declaration of Independence: 'All men are created equal.' But

Littlestown Club On Bus Trip Saturday

The annual bus trip of the Women's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity was enjoyed on Saturday. The trip was taken to Roadside America, the museum, factory and rose gardens at Hershey. The group traveled by Lincoln Bus Lines, and left town at 7 a.m. and returned at 7 p.m. Dinner was eaten at the Community Inn and on the return trip refreshments were enjoyed at the Holiday Inn. Arrangements for the trip were in charge of the Civic Service Committee, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, chairman.

Members who went on the trip were: Mrs. Warren Bixler, Mrs. Carrie Strine, Mrs. LeRoy W. Bish, Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert, Mrs. Donald Z. Mann, Mrs. Donald C. Sheely, Mrs. John A. Senti, Mrs. Melvin A. Miller, Mrs. Edgar Orndorff, Mrs. Stella Rider, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Mrs. Edward M. Brown, Mrs. William H. Dixon, Mrs. Vernon Snyder, Miss Malva Duterra, Mrs. Emory Gitt, Miss Evelyn Hornberger, Mrs. George C. DeHoff and Mrs. Ralph I. Unger. Guests on the trip were: Mrs. Lottie Duterra, Miss Louise Duterra, Miss Marion Manahan, Mrs. Charles Lemmon, Mrs. Ralph Wantz, Mrs. Robert French, Mrs. Della Collins and Mrs. A. Topper.

I am afraid that many of us have thought of these words as referring only to equal rights and privileges. We interpret them to mean that we are to get equally favorable treatment with anyone and everyone else on all matters; that nobody else is to get more of anything good than we get; that all the same opportunity shall be ours that is our neighbor's; and so on and so on.

"But that was not the full interpretation of the words as understood by those who wrote and approved them. In reality, the words 'all men are created equal' refer just as much to equal responsibilities and obligations as they do to rights and privileges. Surely the patriotic Thomas Paine correctly expressed the views of his contemporaries when he said, 'Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must . . . undergo the fatigues of supporting it.' In other words, we who want freedom must take part in the practice of freedom as well as in its enjoyment. Truly, freedom is not only everybody's right, but everybody's job! And only the person to whom freedom means duties as well as privileges is a truly useful citizen of the United States. He who merely wants to enjoy a 'free and easy' life is at best a casual inhabitant of the North American continent, and at worst a dangerous parasite; he cannot be a lover of God and country."

"Meaning Of Freedom"
"Now I should like to become positive about all this and begin to describe the person who has truly grasped the meaning of freedom. Created in the image of God, he possesses dignity, intelligence, and a soul. These he freely uses in the service of his fellowman and thus becomes the more free. He opposes injustice and fosters justice, but he does this judiciously and not emotionally. In other words, he accumulates the facts concerning any seeming injustice and does not go off half cocked. He does not act on hearsay nor sign petitions without reading and studying them. Only after he has investigated each situation and examined all its major aspects does he work out a plan of action. And then he goes ahead undaunted, with dignity and courage, knowing that God is on his side and that his fight for his neighbor's freedom will succeed."

Debt To Country

"The intelligent, free person strives faithfully to exercise the duties which free citizens owe their country. He knows that it is important for a citizen to vote, not merely to have the right to vote. He willingly serves on juries when necessary and does not think juries are important only when a case of his own is up for trial. How many of our adults would rebel if someone tried to take away their voting power or abolish trial by jury? And yet how

Repentant Bandit Gives Loot To Priest

DAYTON, Ohio (U-P) — A repentant bandit who "couldn't sleep all night" gave his loot—including $1,200 cash—to a priest, asked him to return it, then fled.

The Rev. Henry J. Taske, 68, pastor of Our Lady of the Rosary Church, said the man came to his parish house door yesterday morning, asked if he could talk to him and then blurted out:

"I robbed a market last night and I couldn't sleep all night. Here it is. I haven't spent a nickel of it. All I ask is that you see that it gets back to the rightful owner. That's why I'm giving it to you."

The clergyman said the man shoved a bundle into his hands and then left the parish house. The bundle contained $1,200 in cash and $1,600 in checks which police said had been taken from Duquesne's Market.

CROWD ATTENDS ALUMNI DINNER AT FAIRFIELD

Two hundred members and guests of the Fairfield High School Alumni Association attended the annual alumni dinner Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium. A turkey dinner was served by the "Workers of Zion." The tables were decorated with potted plants. Favors were miniature graduation caps and small diplomas tied with green ribbon. James Donaldson, president of the association, presided.

The nominating committee, J. Merle Kittinger, chairman, Mrs. Robert Willis, Mrs. Harry Kane and Mrs. Kermit Spence presented the following nominees who were elected: President, Robert Musselman; vice president, Richard Bigham; secretary, Gladys Walter; treasurer, Kenneth Slonaker.

John Mickle, a member of this year's graduating class, introduced his classmates and responded to the president's welcome message as members of the association. The Alumni Scholastic prize of $10 was presented to John Mickle.

John Diehl, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speakers, E. H. Slaybaugh, Northfield, N. J., a former principal of the Fairfield High School and now superintendent of the Hamilton Twp. Public Schools, and J. Warren Martin, also a former principal of Fairfield High School. Slaybaugh congratulated the community "on the fine school building and the good faculty." He said schools need the co-operation and backing of the community and that he "admires the school with an alumni association to back it such as Fairfield has." Martin reminisced on the years he spent in Fairfield, the growth of the school from a three-year to a four-year high school and said this year's class was a challenge for larger graduating classes.

James Marshall, Baltimore, a member of the class of 1912, in an impromptu speech told of the one-room school where his education began and of "the baseball team" of which he was score-keeper which won 14 of the 17 games played that season. He reminded the class of 1927 that he had addressed them that year and that at that time he had stressed initiative and he would do so again. George B. Inskip, supervising principal of the Fairfield Jointure, welcomed the interest in the school, and quoted figures showing the growth of the school. The program closed with the singing of the Alma Mater with Miss Helen McClellan at the piano. The Bob Olinger orchestra of Gettysburg furnished music for the dancing which followed.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
The Twentieth Anniversary of the Diagonthean Literary Society of Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster was celebrated in that city on the 1st inst. — Among the speakers on the occasion were two young gentlemen from this county — Mr. J. Barnum's Baby Show: This performance came off this week, at the Museum in New York, and was attended by immense crowds.

The number of visitors during Tuesday reached fully 10,000. It lasted two or three days and the Museum was crowded to excess. The number of babies on exhibition were between 1 and 200 — singles, twins and triplets. — There was one child from N. Jersey, 2 years of age, and who weighed 50 pounds; another from Easton, Pa., aged 4 years and 3 months old, her weight being 75 pounds. . . . There were 21 prizes in all.

A battalion of infantry consisting of four companies of the 2d regiment of U. S. Infantry, under the command of Col. Hitchcock, left Carlisle on the 2d. They are bound for Fort Pierre, on the upper Missouri, about 800 miles above Fort Leavenworth, and in the heart of the Sioux country. The battalion numbers about 350, rank and file, and both officers and men are in excellent health and from their high state of discipline, will efficient against the Indians of Nebraska.

Ten deaths from yellow fever and eighteen from small-pox occurred in Havana during the week ending May 28th.
There were coined in the mint of Philadelphia during May coins in the value of $3,376,000. Of this sum there was in gold $2,242,800; in silver, $1,100,000, and in base coin $24,100.

Last week the Republicans of Bedford county voted four to one in favor of Mr. Blaine for President — but John Cassena goes to Chicago to help run the Grant machine in defiance of the Republicans of Bedford. By and by the Republican masses will have an opportunity to settle with these self-constituted bosses.

Immense Sales: — The "Champion" Reaper and Mower is now admitted to be the best in market, and is having an enormous sale, as is proven by the fact that 1,700 of these machines reached Harrisburg last week, from the western manufactory, to fill orders in the east. James Bigham is the Agent for "Champion" for Gettysburg. Call at Herbst's warehouse, opposite freight depot.

The State Board of Agriculture will begin exercises in this place next Wednesday. There ought to be a good attendance of farmers.

Today's Talk

ASSETS

When I get discouraged and feel I have been sidetracked, I have learned that self-pity is the worst remedy that can be taken at such a time. It's like being driven to a blind alley or being deserted by a friend long trusted. We can only find our way back to useful work and happiness by locating someone else who is far worse off than we are.

A business firm's assets are what count in giving it a healthy report. It's the same with us as human beings. We ought to stop and record our assets — not monetary merely, but those that fit us, set us apart, and give substance to our personality and character.

Health is an asset without which we are screened from much in life that is worth while and essential to our usefulness and happiness. Dr. William Osler, one of the greatest physicians of the world, once said this: "The clean tongue, the clear head and the bright eye are birthrights of each day."

There is something from a multitude of ancestors that floats in our bloodstream. We owe to more people than we will ever know. Good blood is an asset. It doesn't have to be "blue!" A large percentage of great men and women came from a humble beginning. Worth, ability and character are assets that are not traded in on the stock exchange!

Everything you learn, every friend you make, every experience that has left you braver and happier, and every book, song or piece of music, that has enriched you, are assets that should make you proud. Assets in money and material things can be wiped out over night, but what you have set aside in your heart and stored in your mind is wealth that God meant should forever remain as top assets in the case of every human being.

In the world of business Good Will stands high. In many cases it is its most valuable asset. Each one of us is represented by the same mythical, though actual, asset, for it exists wherever there is something that lives and influences.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Time's Miracles"

Just Folks

WEDDING CUSTOM
From church, their vows of marriage said,
Away to greet their friends they sped.
A placard on their car was tied
Proclaiming they were groom and bride.
"Just Married," meaning starting life
Forevermore as man and wife.

Time was upon our wedding day
"Just Married," we two rode away;
We were showered with rice and under
The tricks which pranksters smart invent.
And so when they passed out of view
What they'd experience I knew.

I also knew the smiles and tears
They'd have to share throughout the years.
But if together close they stay
They'll learn from skies of blue and gray
"Just Married" leads to troubled days.
"Long Married" is a happier phrase.

REJECT EDEN'S BACK-TO-WORK PLEA ON RADIO

LONDON (AP)—Britain's striking railwaymen today rejected Prime Minister Eden's broadcast back-to-work plea.

Their leaders accused the Conservative chief, returned to power in a general election less than two weeks ago, of getting a lot of his facts about the strike wrong. They said his appeal did nothing to change the situation.

Eden warned in a nationwide broadcast last night that the nine-day-old strike of 67,000 locomotive engineers, firemen and cleaners is pushing Britain toward an economic smashup.

Won't Find Favor

He appealed to the strikers to go back to work and then start negotiations again on their claim for more pay.

But Noel Pinches, president of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, told newsmen today that Eden's appeal "will find no favor" with his union executives.

Pinches claimed his union had already called off one threatened strike on the promise of wages talks which did not reach agreement.

Meanwhile, leaders of the striking stevedores union called a conference in London today to consider their next step in the costly walkout by 20,000 men which has partly tied up seven seaports for two weeks.

Squabble Over Rights

The dock strike stems from a jurisdictional squabble for bargaining rights involving the stevedores and the giant Transport Workers Union. Close to 200 freighters are idle.

A third strike by stewards on four liners prevented the sailing of 2,000 passengers for the United States and Canada. Many of them are Americans. Tied up by this strike are the 35,674-ton Mauretania, the 27,666-ton Britannic, the 19,379-ton Empress of Australia and the 14,440-ton Ascania.

In his fireside chat yesterday, Eden appealed to the striking railwaymen to go back to their jobs and end their "disastrous" walkout.

Can Smash Prosperity

"If we go on like this," he said, "we shall smash up our hard earned prosperity."

"There is little unemployment as yet, but you cannot stop most of the trains in a land like ours without soon bringing some factories to a halt," he warned.

"As the output of one factory drops or stops, others are affected in turn. The longer the strike lasts, the more unemployment there must be in spite of all we can do."

Eden warned that the walkout was also endangering Britain's vital export trade.

"When you lose export orders, you lose future markets too," he said. "That is how the stoppages are weakening the nation—just when it is getting strong and prosperous again."

STAMP SUBJECTS LISTED FOR NEW POSTAGE SERIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve subjects for the stamps still to be issued in the new ordinary postage stamp series were announced today by Postmaster General Summerfield.

The selections complete preliminary work on a change-over which will limit regular stamp issues to 18 denominations and cut out 14 others. The change is the first since 1938, when 32 denominations were issued.

Six of the new stamps already have been issued—the 1 through 5-cent ones, 1½-cent and the 8-cent two-colored Statue of Liberty stamp, the first of the new series to be put out. Descriptions and dates of issuance for the remaining 12 will be announced later.

New Series
Summerfield said inclusion of a 40-cent stamp in the group would make possible any mailing up to 60 cents with not more than two stamps.

The new 18-stamp series will include six with pictures of former presidents, six of other famous Americans, and six of historic shrines.

Discontinued, under the new plan, will be 14 stamps which Summerfield said account for less than 1 per cent of sales. They are the 4½-cent, 11 through 19-cent, 21, 22 and 24-cent and $2 denominations. No more of these will be printed after present supplies are exhausted.

Stamp Pictures
The 12 new additions will show Theodore Roosevelt on the 6-cent stamp; Woodrow Wilson, 7-cent; Mount Vernon, 1½-cent; the Alamo, 9-cent; Independence Hall, 10-cent; Monticello, 20-cent; Benjamin Franklin, ½-cent; Robert E. Lee, 30-cent; John Marshall, 40-cent; Susan B. Anthony, 50-cent; Patrick Henry, $1; and Alexander Hamilton, $5.

Stamps already issued show George Washington on the 1-cent; Thomas Jefferson, 2-cent; Abraham Lincoln, 4-cent; James Monroe, 5-cent; the Statue of Liberty, 3-cent; and the Statue of Liberty in two colors, 8-cent.

SCELBA LEADS ITALIAN REDS BY 2 TO 1 VOTE

By JAMES M. LONG
PALERMO, Sicily. (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba's pro-Western Christian Democrats led the Communists by nearly 2-to-1 in scattered returns today from this island's regional assembly elections.

Returns from 390 of the island's 4,201 voting sections gave the Christian Democrats 68,043 votes to 36,793 for the Communists.

The fellow-traveling Socialists of Stalin peace prize winner Pietro Nenni were trailing heavily in these first returns. They got only 14,319 votes.

Counting of the 2,377,585 ballots cast was proceeding in the island's 4,201 voting sections.

In the 1951 regional elections, Christian Democrats won 30 of the 90 regional assembly seats. Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists, then in one ticket, also won 30 seats.

Their total vote — 645,161 — was slightly under the 666,268 garnered by the Christian Democrats. This year's election is being closely watched as a possible indication of Italy's political currents.

The turnout of nearly 2,400,000 voters in yesterday's election was expected to favor the democratic center parties, which man Italy's national government also.

Yesterday's voting was to elect the island's semi-autonomous Regional Assembly. Of those eligible, 86.89 per cent voted. This was 5

Durocher Seems To Have Lost His Golden Touch As Giants Split With Cubs; Tribe Divides

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press
These are hard days for the New York Giants. Leo Durocher, the master strategist, has lost the golden touch. The daring leader who always called for the right pitcher and the pinch home run in 1954 has misplaced the combination.

Take yesterday, for instance. It seemed like old times when Dusty Rhodes hit a pinch single to win the opener from Chicago 3-2. Even if it wasn't a homer, like Durocher always produced last year, it was enough to please the 18,431 customers.

But the things that happened in the second game seldom happened in 1954. Jim Hearn was rolling along with a 1-0 lead, thanks to Bobby Hoffman's homer, and seemed on the way to becoming the first Giant to pitch a shutout this season.

Calis On Grissom

With two out in the ninth, Hearn slipped. A single by Ernie Banks and a walk to Dee Fondy meant trouble. When Manager Stan Hack sent up Frankie Baumholtz to bat for his catcher Clyde McCullough, Durocher's bullpen men were warming up. Leo let Hearn throw two balls to Baumholtz and then decided to take him out, shutout or no. Marv Grissom, who always got him out of jams last year, came to the rescue.

Baumholtz hit Grissom's first pitch into the right field seats and that was the ball game 3-1.

Because Brooklyn also split two with St. Louis, dropping the first in 10 innings 9-4 and bouncing back to win the second 10-6, the Giants stayed 12 games back.

Day Of Splits

It was a day of splits in both leagues. Everybody played two and everybody split, except Milwaukee and the Phillies. They probably would have finished all even too, except for the Pennsylvania curfew. Milwaukee won the first game 5-4 but the Phillies were on top 4-0 in the seventh inning of the "suspended" second game. They'll finish that game Monday night before their regularly scheduled contest.

Pittsburgh shaded Cincinnati 7-6 on Ramon Mejias' ninth-inning single but the Redlegs grabbed the second game 5-1 with little Jackie Collum going all the way.

After the heavy firing was over in the American League, Casey Stengel's New York Yankees still were four games in front of Cleveland. Billy Hunter's inside-the-park homer in the 10th enabled the Yanks to square matters with Chicago in the second game 3-2 after Jim Rivera's grand-slam home run and Dick Donovan's five-hit pitching won the first for the White Sox 5-3.

Baltimore Snaps Streak

Washington used Cleveland errors to thump Bobby Feller 6-4 but the Indians finally caught up with the Senators in the second game 6-3.

Rookie Duke Maas of Detroit shut out Baltimore with three singles 10-0 in the first game. The Orioles snapped a seven-game losing streak in the finale 6-5 as Cal Abrams rapped a two-run homer and a triple.

Kansas City won 5-4 and then lost to Boston 4-3 in a double-header. Hector Lopez' single in the 10th gave the A's the first game. Jackie Jensen threw out the tying run at the plate to save the decision for the Red Sox in the ninth inning of the second game.

7th For Maglie

In that double-header at the Polo Grounds, Sal Maglie won his seventh straight by scattering seven hits in the opener.

Rookie Ken Boyer tied the first game at Brooklyn with a homer in the ninth and hit another homer with two on in the 10th when the Cardinals sewed it up with five runs off Jim Hughes. Eleven Dodgers went to bat in the fourth inning of the second game to score six runs.

Eddie Mathews hit a pair of homers off Robin Roberts for Milwaukee in the opener at Philadelphia and Ernie Johnson pitched fine relief ball.

Big Home Run Day

Home runs accounted for all but one of the day's runs in Chicago. Andy Carey, Mickey Mantle and Hunter homered for the Yanks in the second game and Chico Carrasquel for the Sox. In the first game Rivera and Lollar of Chicago and Carey and Gil McDougald of the Yanks connected for homers.

Vic Wertz hit two and Bobby Avila one for Cleveland in their losing first game when a leaky defense proved costly to the Tribe. Al Smith's triple with the bases full featured their winning rally in the second game.

Dirt Track Champ Bob Slater Killed

DES MOINES (AP)—Bob Slater, 29-year-old national dirt track champion, was killed yesterday on the same track where he began big car racing four years ago.

Slater, of Kansas City, was the fourth driver killed on the Iowa Fairgrounds dirt track since September 1951.

The 50-mile feature race was 2 minutes 45 seconds old when Slater's blue Offenhauser roared into the fatal curve and slammed into a retaining wall. He died of multiple fractures.

Slater's wife, Mary Lou, was among the 12,000 persons who witnessed the accident.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Albany's Senators have snapped a 12-game losing streak.
Joe Belcastro belted an eighth-inning homer with Frankie Stauch aboard to give the cellar-dwellers of the Eastern League a 5-4 verdict over Allentown yesterday.

Binghamton Cut Williamsport's lead to three games when Jim Coates blanked the Grays with a two-hitter. Coates, gaining his third triumph, had allowed only one hit the last time out.

Elmira took a firmer hold on the sixth spot, whacking host Wilkes-Barre twice, 10-3 and 9-5. Reading, tied with Binghamton, and Schenectady were not scheduled.

The two split a twin-bill Saturday night, the Jays taking the opener 4-3 and Reading the nightcap, 9-5. Allentown downed Albany 6-4 and Binghamton edged Williamsport 2-1.

Wenksville and Taneytown, first and second place teams, respectively, in the South Penn Baseball League, pulled further away from the field by winning contests Sunday afternoon.

The league leaders topped Bonneauville 7-5 on the latter's field while Taneytown rallied for two runs in the last of the ninth inning to nip Mummasburg 5-4 at Taneytown.

The Mummasburg-Taneytown game was a nip and tuck affair all the way. Mummasburg led 3-1 going into the last of the eighth but Taneytown knotted the score. In the top of the ninth Mummasburg took a 4-3 only to have the home club stage its final inning rally.

Hunterstown set a new season scoring record by crushing the invading Harney outfit 23-3. The winners pounded out total of 21 hits with B. Hankey collected four and B. Heyser and Englebert three each. Heyser limited Harney to five safeties.

Greenmount lost its third straight game to the fast-improving Brushtown aggregation 10-2 on the former's field. The win was the second in a row for Brushtown and places them in a three-way tie for fifth place with Bonneauville and Mummasburg.

DEMARCO WILL DEFEND TITLE FRIDAY NIGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tony DeMarco makes the first defense of his welterweight title Friday night as a 17-10 underdog against rugged Carmen Basilio at Syracuse, N. Y.

The swarthy, 23-year-old titleholder from Boston is invading the home grounds of the 28-year-old challenger from Canastota, N. Y., and they were assured a sellout within a few days after the first tickets were put on sale. NBC will telecast and broadcast the 15-round.

DeMarco, who received practically nothing when he won the title from Johnny Saxton in Boston April 1, will collect 40 per cent of the net gate and air receipts. Basilio will receive 20 per cent.

Long Unbeaten Streaks

Both carry long unbeaten streaks into the battle. DeMarco has won 16 bouts and drew in another with lightweight king Jimmy Carter over the past two years. Basilio has hung up a string of nine wins and two draws since he narrowly lost to Kid Gavilan in his first attempt at the championship on Sept. 18, 1953.

Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, a 22-year-old Brooklyn veteran of the Korean battling, suits for injured Jackie La Bua tonight against free-swinging Rafael Merentino of Argentina in a middleweight 10-round at St. Nicholas Arena.

Du Mont will telecast at 9 p.m. EST.

Garden And Building News

Rooms	Ten
Bedrooms	Five
Closets	Eleven
Cubage:
House	26,800 ft.
Garage	2,200 ft.
Dimensions	45'x27'

Containing complete living facilities, including three bedrooms, on the first floor, "The Logan," featured today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is an ideal home for a growing family because it also contains a second floor that can be finished at your convenience.

The compact exterior of "The Logan" is attractively styled to blend with any setting; you can build this house in the city, country or suburbs. Measuring 45'x27', "The Logan" has a cubage of 26,800 feet; the garage has a cubage of 2,200 feet. At least a 90-foot lot would be required to hold the house plus the garage.

So that the rear and quieter sections of "The Logan" can be reserved for the sleeping quarters, the kitchen, dining room and living room are placed in the front of the house. Unusually well lighted by four windows, which also add to the cheerful, pleasant atmosphere of the room, the kitchen includes a breakfast nook in its left corner. Thus the dining room, which adjoins the kitchen, can be reserved for family dinners and more formal occasions. The housewife will find good use for the handy built-in china cabinet in the dining room. Place your dining room set where you'll reap the utmost benefits from the double windows in the front dining room wall.

Five windows add to the attractiveness of the spacious living room. Built-in bookshelves line the front wall from these windows to both the right and left walls; they help to make this part of the room a focal point of interest. In choosing the decorative scheme and in selecting your furniture arrangement also take into consideration the large fireplace centered in the left wall of the room.

Well lighted and ventilated, all of the first floor bedrooms contain good closet storage space. As a matter of fact, there is a generous amount of closets throughout "The Logan."

On the second floor of "The Logan" space is provided for two more bedrooms, plus a sewing room. Here again there is an abundance of storage space, including under the eaves storage drawers, a walk-in storage area and extra-sized closets.

With the utility room provided for on the first floor of "The Logan" the only installation that you must install in the basement is the heating plant. This should, of course, be placed under the living room.

LEADER HAS NO TAX SUBSTITUTE

LANCASTER, Pa. (P)—Governor Leader says he has no substitute to offer if his proposed classified income tax program fails.

The governor, however, speaking on a question and answer television panel on station WGAL-TV Friday night, added he believes the Legislature "will act favorably to" his tax program.

Leader said he was opposed to the continuation of the sales tax because, among other reasons, it hits the people in the lower income groups the hardest and that business has been granted many exemptions.

"To close the deficit gap," the governor said, "it would be necessary to have a 3 1/2 per cent sales tax with nothing exempted but take-home food. This would mean business would have to pay taxes on many items."

Appearing on the panel with the governor were G. William Birrell, president of Kuzler and Co., and past president of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce; Robert P.

BLAME FAULTY VACCINE FOR POLIO OUTBREAK

BOISE, Idaho (P)—Some evidence focused on faulty vaccine today as a possible cause of a polio outbreak in Idaho, which reported its sixth death of the year from the disease.

Dr. Louis P. Gebhardt, a University of Utah physician and bacteriologist who led the tests in Utah, Colorado and Wyoming during the field trials of the vaccine last year, reported on tests "which as far as we can interpret" showed "probably a very, very small amount of live virus" present in samples of the vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories and used in Idaho.

In Washington, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele said on a TV-radio interview that with proper techniques live virus should not get into the vaccine, but he was unable to give any report on Dr. Gebhardt's findings until the full report is received by the National Institutes of Health.

Safe On Test

Dr. Gebhardt said he also has tested other Cutter vaccine used in Utah and Idaho and found it safe.

In Berkeley, Calif., Cutter issued a statement saying all of its lots had passed government safety tests before shipment.

The statement from Cutter said also that if the findings of Dr. Gebhardt are confirmed, "it will be evidence of the need for the new more stringent safety tests established last week by the service."

Scheele said on the TV-radio program that vaccine manufacturers will need "some time to retool, so to speak," to meet the new, stricter testing standards. He said he was unable to predict when this would be.

He said the new testing procedures will make the vaccine "as safe as science" can make it.

DIET OF MATCHES

MIYAZAKI CITY, Japan (P)—Doctors at the Nichinan Hospital removed more than 300 chewed up matches from the stomach and intestines of Mitsuru Nagao, a 31-year-old woman barber. She said she had craved — and eaten — matches ever since she was a small girl and they had never made her sick until three days ago.

Savory cabbage is a fine home garden vegetable. It is not often found in markets though its crinkled leaves have a special flavor.

Best Cultivation Gives Garden A Close Shave

No garden technique has been more changed by research scientists than cultivation. It used to be thought that the deeper the soil between plant rows was stirred, the better for growing plants. Tools were devised to sink into the soil, and it took a strong man to use them.

That burden has been lifted from the amateur, by tests which proved that deep stirring of the soil was actually harmful. It disturbed feeding roots which the plants needed, and lost moisture which they could use. Today correct cultivation of a garden is no more difficult than sweeping a floor.

The research scientists, in fact, say that the secret of correct cultivation is to take it easy. Cultivation should begin as soon as the young plants begin to grow.

At this stage, if the soil between plants is stirred it will be found to be full of tiny white sprouts, which are weeds, beginning to develop.

One easy stroke of a sharp hoe or cultivating tool will destroy scores of them before they have begun to compete with the vegetable plants for available plant food and water.

As long as weeds are killed in infancy, cultivation will be easy, but once they are allowed to begin substantial growth, not only do crops suffer, but work will increase, and the care of the garden may become a chore.

It is seldom necessary to stir the ground deeper than one inch. This is sufficient to kill young weeds, without disturbing the roots of the vegetable plants. It also breaks the soil crust and allows air and water to penetrate readily.

Besides destroying weeds in the space between rows, those which grow in the row itself must be pulled when tiny. This requires hand work, and is always tedious, but if attended to promptly it takes little time, and once the vegetables have become well established, hand weeding will be unnecessary.

Free air circulation in the soil has been proved to be a vital factor in the growth of plants. In properly porous soil there is a complete change of air to a depth of eight inches every hour. When the soil becomes compacted and crusted on the surface, this exchange is seriously hampered. Crust formation can be checked by various methods, including the application of a mulch, by growing a living mulch of fescue grasses. But lacking a mulch frequent shallow cultivation is necessary, especially after every rain.

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (P)—Mrs. Rose Bryant said she lost control of her car when she tried to retrieve a goldfish which flipped out of a bowl on the seat when she turned a corner. Although she saved the fish, her car smashed into a parked auto. Damages to Mrs. Bryant's car totaled more than $300.

STEELWORKERS START TALKS ON TUESDAY

By JOHN MOODY
PITTSBURGH (P)—With U.S. Steel Corp. as the initial target, the CIO United Steelworkers will begin negotiations tomorrow with the basic steel industry for a "substantial wage increase."

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member union, and other top officials of the Steelworkers organization will meet with a U.S. Steel committee headed by Vice President John A. Stephens.

McDonald said he plans to open negotiations with five other major producers immediately after talks get under way with Big Steel. He will head negotiations with all six steel firms.

Seek Substantial Hike
The union's Wage Policy Committee instructed McDonald and other officials to seek a "substantial wage hike." Neither McDonald nor any other union official has defined "substantial."

However, many observers believe the union will demand as much as 25 cents an hour. That figure is expected to be cut down to between 10 and 12 cents by agreement time.

The big union will be free to call its 600,000 members in basic steel out on strike at midnight June 30 if a settlement is not reached. Wages are the only issue up for discussion.

Average $2.33 Hourly
The union has notified 96 basic steel producing firms and iron ore companies that it wants to discuss wages under an opening clause in a two-year contract signed last year.

The steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour.

The other five steel companies scheduled to meet with the union in Pittsburgh are Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and Inland Steel Co.

BIG FOUR MEET DRAWS CAUTION NOTE FROM U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—The Eisenhower administration's view of the Big Four meeting has moved from negative (not wanting it) to somewhere between negative and positive (agreeing to it but cautioning not to expect too much of it).

Secretary of State Dulles cannot be said to have played up the importance of this meeting—perhaps in Geneva July 18—among President Eisenhower and his opposite numbers in Britain, France and Russia.

Even a mild and perhaps true statement by Vice President Nixon, pointing out how important the conference may be, did not draw endorsement from the State Department, whose views are Dulles' views.

Dulles Hedges
Last week Nixon said the meeting may be man's last chance to avoid war. When Dulles' press officer Henry Snydam was asked for comment, he said: "I'll make no comment."

The administration's attitude seems to be getting under the skin of Sen. George, the Georgia Democrat who urged the meeting before Eisenhower agreed to it. Yesterday George said: "We ought to approach this with a positive attitude."

Dulles has taken pains to say: Don't get your hopes too high about this conference. Then if it fails, you won't be disillusioned.

Eisenhower Role
Eisenhower describes his role at the conference this way: He and the other top men won't make decisions. They'll just discuss problems in general. When it comes to tackling specific problems, the foreign ministers will do that.

There is also some political usefulness in the administration's approach to the conference.

If the Republicans got the people steamed up about the meeting and it failed, the Democrats could try to blame them for it and the voters in the 1956 elections might show their disappointment.

No Appeasement
By promising he would not fall into the trap of appeasement at the meeting, Eisenhower seems to have pleased those among his Republicans who sounded afraid to see him meet the Russians. At least they've been fairly quiet since.

But, by indicating beforehand he will make no final decisions, Eisenhower may be setting another kind of trap for himself:

hat will he do if the Russians at the meeting suddenly confront him with proposals which have some air of reasonableness, particularly to Britain and France, but require a decision by Eisenhower if the conference is not to fail?

Since this isn't wartime, with its need for secrecy, the meeting will have propaganda value for all sides. Much if not all that happens will be made public, either by leaks or statements by the four powers.

Rev. C. W. Tilburg, Gettysburg College Graduate, Delivers Commencement Address Sunday

The following is the complete text of the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. Cedric W. Tilburg, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Altoona, in Christ Chapel, college campus, Sunday morning. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Tilburg, W. Lincoln Ave. Dean Tilburg retired as dean of the college this month.

The sermon, "Saving Others, The True Work of Life," follows in full:

Mark 15:31: "Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save."

"These words were spoken by the enemies of Jesus, not by His friends. They were uttered in bitter derision by men who had plotted and had now achieved His crucifixion: 'He saved others; himself he cannot save.' If He were actually the Son of God, as He claimed to be, surely He would call forth His miraculous power and come down from the cross. The fact that He was still hanging there, bleeding and dying, was to the scribes and priests the most unanswerable proof that they had been right, and that this Galilean was the rankest impostor, a blasphemer against God in heaven."

"Mission of Jesus"

"But what those men did not realize was that by their words of mockery they were giving the very finest description possible of the mission of Jesus Christ. He came into the world to seek and save that which was lost; but the only way He could save others and save that which was lost, was to give Himself. In terms of His supernatural power, certainly He could have come down from the cross; but in terms of His God-given mission He could not. He could not spare Himself pain and death. There is a sense in which our Lord was nailed to the cross by the cruel hatred of wicked men, and—more important—by the ordinary sins of ordinary people like you and me; but there is a deeper sense in which He made His own rendezvous with death, knowing full well that only through a cross could He bring redemption to mankind. It was just because He came to save others, that He could not save Himself."

"In the plan of God, each of us has exactly that same mission: God expects us to live our life for the sake of others, but we cannot really do that unless we lose ourselves. That's our mission. You, the members of this graduating class, will be entering into a multitude of different activities. If you go immediately to work, the types of work in which you engage will present a varied picture. If you go to graduate school, you will be studying in many fields. If you go into military service, you will be serving in diverse ways. If you enter into marriage soon—well, there will be differences there, too. No two homes represented in this large group will be exactly the same."

Identical Calling

"And yet, despite all this variety in life pursuits, the true calling of all of you is identical. No matter what your particular occupation, God asks you to do one thing common to all: wherever you are, whatever you do, to lose yourself in serving others."

"In the land of Palestine there are two famous bodies of water, which present a sharp contrast to each other. The Sea of Galilee is clear and fresh; vegetation grows and people live around its shores. But the Dead Sea is stagnant and salty, and neither people nor plant life thrive nearby. Why the difference? The Sea of Galilee has both an inlet and an outlet—what it receives from the Jordan River, it freely gives away. But the Dead Sea has no outlet—what it receives, it tries to keep. Thus the Sea of Galilee nourishes life, but the Dead Sea deserves its name, for its stagnancy brings death."

"In our day we speak much about being realistic and practical. All right, let's be as realistic and practical as it is possible to be. Let's see this basic fact clearly: There is only one life that fails—the selfish life. And there is only one life that succeeds—the life that gives itself in service and love. God wants these words to be inscribed over our days, too, as they were over the ministry of His Son: 'He saved others, himself he cannot save.'"

Bold Revelation

"See how this spirit must express itself in your daily work. Most of you will be spending the largest part of your waking hours in some kind of job. What is going to be your attitude toward it? Is it going to be only a means of earning a living for yourself and your family? A few years ago Time Magazine published a striking advertisement. A workman is standing, with his hand cupped behind his ear, in the pose of listening. His face has a look of skepticism, as he asks, 'Okay—but what's in it for me? So America's the richest country in the world. So what? So Americans produce more than any other people on earth. Okay—but what's in it for me?' The ad goes on to answer the question with the familiar recital of America's technological achievements—a very convincing argument, to be sure, if you want to think exclusively along such lines. But I am more concerned with the fact that this man's question is a bald, unabashed revelation of a thoroughly selfish attitude toward daily work, an attitude that is shared by millions of people who never get their pictures in an ad: 'Okay—but what's in it for me?' In fact, a great many folks think that this is the only sensible question to ask of a job.

Opportunity To Serve

"Well, if that is your attitude, I suggest that you will never learn to enjoy your work or find real satisfaction in it. You will be keeping your eye on the clock and your ear on the closing whistle. If that is your attitude, you will select a job according to one standard—what does it pay? What's in it for me? But if, on the other hand, you will see your work as part of God's plan for your life, as an opportunity to perform service to others in His name, you will begin to discover even in the most obscure, the most dull, the most difficult occupation, a deep joy that you did not think possible. There is plenty of drudgery in every type of work, whether it be that of a business executive or a machinist, a school teacher or a minister. There are experiences in all vocations that make you sometimes feel like giving up and hunting for something else. But if you will express in and through your job the spirit that Christ revealed on the cross—the spirit of service—you will work always with a sense of triumph."

"Some of you will be going to post-graduate or professional school in the fall. Here again, your motive is extremely important. What do you expect of this advanced education? Do you expect merely that it will enable you to get a higher-paying job than you would be able to secure without it? If that is all you are looking for, your motive is not adequate to the needs of our time. Certainly further schooling will give you better preparation for a life work, but not so that you may satisfy a selfish desire to get ahead of others. It will prepare you for more effective service to your fellow-men. It will equip you to provide a higher kind of leadership for your church and community, your nation and world."

Leadership Is Needed

"How desperately that leadership is needed—leadership in every walk of life that is not only thoroughly trained, but that is also moved by the noblest convictions and the compulsions of Christian love. Don't ever let anyone tell you that education by itself is going to save the world. I trust that that dream is a thing of the past. The worst devastations of recent years have been caused by highly-trained leaders in government and war who have had no scruples. It may be that in our complex, scientific age the person we have to fear most is the thoroughly educated but godless man. So, as you go on to post-graduate or professional school, take Christ with you, and place Him at the center of all that you do."

"Sacred Significance"

"It may be that someone will protest: 'If I want to become an engineer, what does religion have to do with it?' And my answer is: 'Nothing at all, if you consider religion' to be one little room in your life, entered only for special observance on Sunday. But if you catch the spirit of the New Testament and believe that there is a sacred significance to all of life, then you can believe that God calls you to be a Christian, not only in church, but in your life work, and in your preparation for life work.' It is impossible to say how much the fate of your nation and world depends upon your decision in this regard, and upon the decision of all the other young people with whom you associate."

"Many of you will soon be entering upon a period of military service. This problem of war is one of the most difficult that an earnest Christian can ever face, and there is no pat solution to it, no easy answer to its disturbing questions. Some young people, battling it out in their hearts, will decide that all war is wrong and that they would be violating conscience if they took part in it. They will become conscientious objectors. Although I myself could not be a conscientious objector, I do feel that, as Christians and as Americans, too, we must respect those who take that position because of honest conviction.

"A Lesser Evil"

"Other young people, struggling with equal sincerity with the issues posed by war, will decide that war is still a lesser evil than some of the horrible things it seeks to eliminate, and that the defense of the nation and the ideals for which it stands is a high Christian duty. Those who come to this conviction will participate to the best of their ability. They will continue to be perplexed by haunting questions, but basically will feel they are doing right. And then there is the largest group of young people who will raise no questions at all, but will go into the armed forces with misgiving, or resignation, or pleasure, and make the best of it. But the important thing in life is not the experiences that come to us, but what we do with them. And therein lies the message of this sermon. We have been speaking of the Christ who gave Himself up to the cross, and of God's call to us to give ourselves in the same spirit. Is that possible in military service? Of course, it is. We even use the word "service"—that's worth thinking about. When you dedicate yourself to the true welfare of the nation; when you maintain right relations with those in the armed forces with you; when you remain true to your ideals and convictions of Christian living, even when powerful forces are seeking to drag you down—you can become stronger in faith and example. Seek out your chaplain, and allow God to use him to help you live a Christian life with a plus sign.

Spirit Of Service

"And now, whether you get a job right away, or take up advanced study, or enter military service, most of you, sooner or later, will be married. You will find a life partner and establish a home of your own. Nowhere is the spirit of service and self-render more important than in the home, where the relationships among the various members of the family are so close and continuous. We must realize that God has established the home as a little community of love within the larger community of the world. He has made it a part of the order of His creation and invested it with an infinite significance. Marriage is not just a private matter, in which two people fall in love, get a license, and have a pastor perform a ceremony. It is a relationship which God has provided from the very foundation of the world, and in which He expects us to reflect His spirit. God Himself calls you to be a Christian husband or wife, a Christian father or mother, yes, and a Christian son or daughter. It may

CHARGE YOUTH IN GIRL'S DEATH

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—A scowling 15-year-old youth, who police said was addicted to reading "horror, crime and war" stories, faces arraignment on a murder charge today in the sex slaying of an 8-year-old girl.

Police said Gerald Paul Troiano admitted orally that he bludgeoned Margaret Gormley to death on Friday with part of a dismantled washing machine when she resisted his advances.

Families of the victim and her alleged killer share a two family dwelling and are close friends.

The girl's body, fully clothed, was found by her father, Manus, in a pool of blood in the cellar. A blood-stained agitator from a washing machine that Gormley was repairing was found in a coal bin.

Acquits O'Malley Of Tax Evasion Charge

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U.S. District Judge Thomas Clay has acquitted former Chief Magistrate John J. O'Malley, of a three-year-old income tax evasion charge.

In ordering the acquittal on Friday, Judge Clay said the government evidence in the case "fell far short" of the required level to sustain a conviction.

The government contended that O'Malley's financial net worth increased in a much greater proportion than his income tax payments for certain years. He was charged specifically with evasion of taxes in 1946.

O'Malley was first tried for evading payment of $97,000. He was convicted and granted a new trial. The second time the tax evasion figure was dropped to $63,000 and the jury was unable to reach a decision.

Worked For God

"Jane Addams, who became world-famous because of her settlement house work in the slums of Chicago, at Hull House, used to say that when every summer college students would come to help her she could soon divide them into two groups. The first group consisted of those who came simply to serve their fellow-men. After a week or two of hard work they would begin trailing into Miss Addams' office ready to quit. 'Why, we came to help these people, and they don't even appreciate it—in fact, they often make it even more difficult for us to work. If we don't get any thanks from them, we're through.' But the second group of students, usually a smaller number, consisted of those who went into the slums not only to serve people but to serve God. They encountered the same obstacles, the same lack of appreciation, the same heartaches; but instead of quitting, they knuckled down to work harder. The big thing with them was not thanks from the people, but the fact that they were doing what God wanted them to do, and were expressing the spirit of One who on a distant hill long ago died for them."

"He saved others; himself he cannot save."

"This is the true work of life."

Two Basic Truths Pointed Out To College Grads By Langsam

The importance of basic spiritual truths was emphasized by Dr. Walter C. Langsam, the president of Gettysburg College in his brief address to the members of the graduating class before presenting them with diplomas at the graduation exercises Sunday afternoon.

The text of his "greetings" to the class follows:

Ladies and gentlemen, and especially members of the graduating class:

The diplomas which I shall with pleasure give you in a few minutes will certify your new status as alumni rather than undergraduates. This certification means that, in the opinion of the faculty, you have achieved certain exacting goals that were set for you when first you entered Gettysburg as eager freshmen some years ago.

The faculty of Gettysburg College believes with Alexander Pope that "the proper study of mankind is man." And since man is characterized by both reason and feeling, the faculty has tried to help you study, develop, and train both of these capacities. For, as William E. Dunning once wrote: "The ends for which men strive are determined in a vast majority of instances by feelings; the means to these ends are the more common field of action for reason."

It is our belief, then, that during your four-year stay at Gettysburg you have grown spiritually, intellectually, and physically. You have acquired some factual knowledge in each of several fields of culture, and special knowledge in a sphere of personal interest. This was the purpose of your required basic courses, followed by the so-called major courses and electives.

Learned To Get Things Done

Then, you have learned effective study habits and have gained the ability to concentrate on the work at hand. In other words, you presumably have learned how to get things done.

Further, although you eventually will forget some of your present specific knowledge, you will not forget your training in the use of sources of information. You have become aware of the value of a good library and of the worth of reliable sources.

Finally, you have participated in one or more extracurricular enterprises, ranging in character all the way from athletic competition to religious worship.

Parallel with these academic experiences and acquisitions you also have gained some nonacademic values. You have come to appreciate the advantages and fun of teamwork, and the rewarding bonds of friendship. You have come to recognize the essence of leadership, and the need for consideration of the rights of others. You have enjoyed the fellowship of cooperation for college, country, and God.

Two Basic Truths

But all this knowledge and experience will fall short of wisdom if you have not also come to accept two basic spiritual truths. These two truths are, first, that every right and privilege brings with it a corresponding obligation or responsibility. And secondly, that Christ and His principles are relevant to any and every field of human endeavor. The individual's sense of responsibility is the only effective basis for successful life in society. And faith alone can give satisfying interaction to learning and working. Where the will of God and the will of man clash, there is frustration and unhappiness; where the will of God and the will of man coincide, there is peace and happiness.

Gettysburg, then, has, I am sure, come to mean much to you during the last few years. You, in turn, have come to mean much to Gettysburg. We sincerely hope that, after this graduation, you will all come back to the campus often—come back to renew acquaintances, reminisce with the faculty, cheer the teams to victory, and do all the other things that your thousands of fellow-alumni over a period of six-score years have found it fun to do, including registering your prospective children for the class of '77!

In a few minutes Dean Tilberg, who has worked with you and your predecessors so faithfully and for so long, will present you—his last class, and mine—for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Thus you will pass

The Big News!

Amoco announces a new way to make gas, a new conception of octane

A few short months ago a man pressed a button . . . the words "on stream" echoed from place to place . . . and a new petroleum giant came to life. Oil pulsed through its arteries. And at Texas City, Texas, the world's largest multi-million dollar Ultraforming unit had begun creating the new Amoco-Gas.

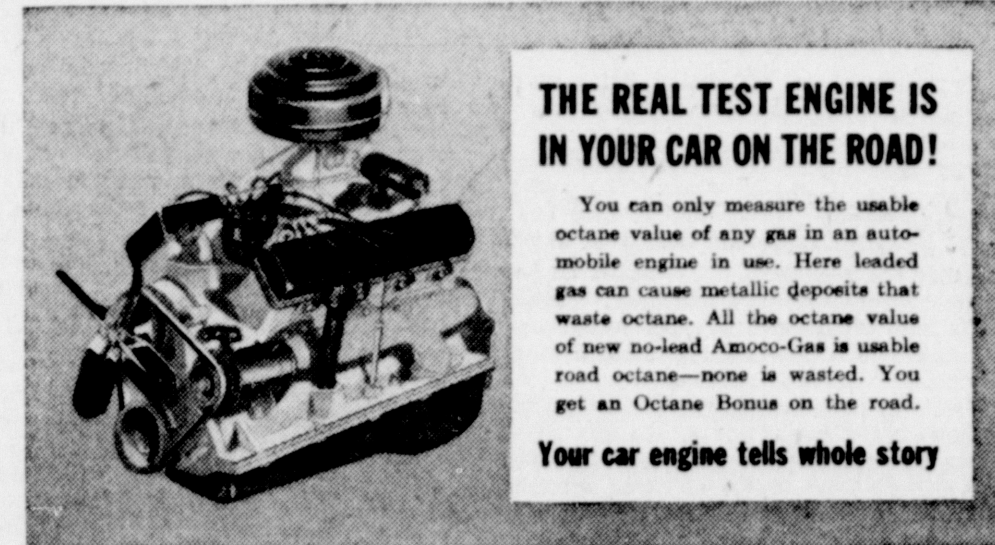

From this mighty oil refinery has come a new, high-octane gas . . . made by a patented method, the most advanced known to science. A clear, white gas with such natural anti-knock quality that it is the only gas that meets modern car engine needs without the use of lead. It's the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas.

STANDARD ONE-CYLINDER LABORATORY TEST ENGINE

This universal "Octane Rating" engine accurately determines the octane rating of every gas—in the laboratory. It does not measure the harmful effects of lead deposits in an automobile engine.

It tells only half of octane story

THE REAL TEST ENGINE IS IN YOUR CAR ON THE ROAD!

You can only measure the usable octane value of any gas in an automobile engine in use. Here leaded gas can cause metallic deposits that waste octane. All the octane value of new no-lead Amoco-Gas is usable road octane—none is wasted. You get an Octane Bonus on the road.

Your car engine tells whole story

And this great new premium motor fuel couldn't have been born at a more appropriate time. It answers all the bewilderment about octane in a clear, simple way.

The Octane you've heard about—until now

The octane ratings you hear about are laboratory ratings. They are ratings obtained by adding lead. But lead doesn't all burn up. It leaves harmful deposits that can turn your engine into an octane trap—a trap that catches and wastes octane!

The Octane BONUS of the new, unleaded Amoco-Gas

Pure, no-lead Amoco-Gas can all burn—every drop. None is wasted fighting lead deposits. All its octane-energy can go to turn the wheels—it's all usable "road octane."

That's the only practical way to measure octane. That's why we say the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas gives you an Octane Bonus . . . on the road, where it counts.

Try it—it does something wonderful for your car!

John Gunther

The reason is that nobody wants war. . . No one wants to become a cinder, not even Chou En-Lai. . . Gunther spoke briefly. He spoke about Africa, from which he recently returned after a lengthy trip to gather material for a book. Africa, he said, "is filled with people who haven't chosen sides," and is "the greatest unclaimed prize" in the Cold War.

Receives Honorary Degree

"Liberia, which is twice the size of Pennsylvania, has only ten miles of paved roads and two native doctors. Not only should we help to develop this area, but this should make us realize how fortunate we are. In the Sudan, there are only seven secondary schools. There is only one university between Khartoum and Johannesburg. Africans yearn for education, because they know that it is needed to end the superiority of the white men."

Gunther was one of eight persons who received honorary degrees.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president, in conferring an honorary Doctor of Laws on the author, commented that "with the publication of his 'Inside Africa,' currently on the presses, the only remaining field of work for him would be a volume entitled 'Inside John Gunther.'"

Dr. Langsam, in asking Dean W. E. Tilberg to present the Senior Class, observed that "this will be his last class, and mine." Dean Tilberg is retiring at the close of this academic year. Dr. Langsam resigned to accept the presidency of the University of Cincinnati.

Two Basic Truths

Dr. Langsam congratulated the graduating seniors, and told them, "During your four-year stay you have grown physically, intellectually, and spiritually. . . . You have also gained certain non-academic values. Your education will fall short of wisdom if you have not learned two basic truths: that every right has a corresponding responsibility, and that Christ and His principles can be applied to every situation." He told them to "come back often, and register your prospective children for the class of 1977."

Among those awarded degrees by Dr. Langsam was the late Gary Lew Bucher, who was killed in an automobile accident March 26. The post-humous award was accepted by his father, Clifford Bucher, Biglerville. Another of those receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree was Sgt. Elmer J. Johnson, instructor of air science and tactics at the college.

Music for the exercises was played by the York High School band. It included: Rossini's "Italian In Algiers" and Creston's "Zanoni," and as a processional and recessional, Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance." The audience sang "Blessing and Honor" and the alma mater. The invocation was given by the college chaplain, Rev. Edwerth E. Korte, and the benediction by Rev. Herman G. Stuempfle Jr., pastor of Christ Lutheran Church.

DEATH

George Florence Buried

Funeral services were held from St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, Saturday morning for George David Florence, 60, Emmitsburg, who died at the Arner Hospital last Wednesday morning. The Rev. Father John Sullivan officiated and interment was made in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery, Emmitsburg.

The graveside rites were in charge of the Emmitsburg American Legion and the VFW. Eugene Rodgers served as commander. The pallbearers were Edward Houck, Louis Rosensteel, Carroll C. Topper, George Ashbaugh Jr., Curtis D. Topper and Joseph Geiselman. The firing squad included Thomas Harbaugh, commander, Jack Rosensteel, Daniel Topper, Joseph Rodgers, William Weidner

FORD PLANTS BEING CLOSED BY WALKOUTS

By GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT (AP)—Walkouts stalled production at many Ford Motor Co. plants around the country today while negotiators worked through the night for a contract settlement that would head off a general Ford strike.

Company and CIO United Auto Workers officials were hopeful of an agreement soon on the guaranteed annual wage plan and other issues.

Some rank-and-file union members became impatient as the talks dragged on past the midnight strike deadline.

An early morning count showed thousands of midnight shift Ford employees off the job in numerous plants. Ford has 140,000 hourly rated employees in all.

Walkouts were reported at Ford plants in Buffalo, N. Y.; Cleveland, Cincinnati and Canton, Ohio; Somerville, Mass.; and Livonia, Mich., a Detroit suburb. Some pickets also appeared at plant gates at Ford's Chicago jet engine plant and plants at St. Paul, Minn., and Dallas, Tex.

Midnight operations were reported normal, however, at the Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, biggest in the Ford empire. It was there that the union's Local 600, frequently at odds with the international union, had threatened to "pull the switches" last week, barring a settlement.

Ford Brothers Stand By

In the middle of the night, two grandsons of the late Henry Ford — Benson and William Clay Ford — went to the downtown hotel where negotiations were in progress. Neither of the brothers, who both are vice presidents of the company, entered the bargaining room, however.

Their brother Henry Ford II, company president, was reported in a nearby downtown hotel in close touch with the negotiations. Benson and William posed for photographers in the hotel suite, but aides refused to let reporters question them.

Contract Extended

The UAW's simultaneous contract talks with General Motors Corp., reported moving swiftly toward a climax, were recessed late last night after 9½ hours of daytime bargaining. They were scheduled to resume at 12:30 p.m. today.

The GM contract runs until Tuesday midnight. The Ford contract was extended for four days last Wednesday after Ford became the auto industry's first company to agree in principle to the union demand for a guaranteed annual wage.

Saturday evening at Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church. The president was Mrs. Katherine Feather, Baltimore.

Fifteen attended the annual reunion of the class of 1948 held at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Home, Baltimore St., at which plans were discussed for the tenth reunion in 1958. There was no election of officers, with those named to the posts serving five-year terms. The officers are Robert H. Janke, Gwynedd Valley, Pa., president; Betty Edwards, Lancaster, secretary-treasurer; David S. Babylon Jr., Westminster, class agent, and Richard E. Snyder, Columbia, alumni council representative.

1950
Robert Juditz, Harrisburg, was elected president of the Class of 1950 at a reunion for 32 members of the class at the Shetter House Saturday night. John Bair, Atlanta, Ga., was named vice president; Mrs. Ruth Fortenbaugh Craley, Red Lion, secretary; David McMorris, Williamsport, treasurer; James Way, Drexel Hill, class agent, and Allen Larson, Gettysburg, representative on the Alumni Council.

Plans were made for the tenth reunion. No action was immediately taken on the size of the gift to be made by the class to the dormitory fund.

Man Is Fined $280 For Manslaughter

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A 26-year-old Scranton, Pa., man has been fined $280 for manslaughter in the death of a Royal Air Force squadron leader.

Thomas Griffiths was fined Friday in connection with the death of Squadron Leader Lawrence Browne.

A judge said that although Griffiths pleaded guilty to manslaughter, the case bordered on one of misadventure and if Browne had gone to a doctor the blow struck by Griffiths might not have had a fatal effect. Browne died four days after a fight in the Nicosia night club.

The judge said that Griffiths had been provoked by the officer's remarks and had defended his country's honor after Browne called him a liar.

LAUSCHE LAUDS HARRY TRUMAN

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, often cool to Harry Truman in the past, Friday night called him "one of the great presidents of our country."

Lausche, at odds with national Democratic leaders recently over his refusal to attend a political confab of Democratic governors in Washington, heaped praise on Truman in a welcoming speech at a $100-a-plate dinner for the Truman library fund.

"The goodness of his deeds and the soundness of his policies will be judged as time goes on," Lausche said. He said that although Truman's policies were criticized "there has been no effort made to change them."

That, Lausche said, attested to the goodness of the policies.

BOOST FOR TEACHERS

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's 40,000 public school teachers will get a $300 pay increase for the next academic year and an additional $150 in 1956-57. Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the pay boost yesterday, saying it will cost the city $23½ million dollars over the two-year period.

SAYS PENTAGON OUGHT TO BAR "GRAFT" FIRMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said Saturday the Pentagon should bar from further contracts any firm found to have paid graft to government employees.

Ervin is a member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee now investigating what he termed "a rotten situation" in the buying of uniform items for the armed forces.

The subcommittee, under chairmanship of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), hopes to wind up next week public hearings at which it is seeking evidence of corruption in big scale purchases of those items.

To Question Lev

The hearings are in recess until Tuesday, when the subcommittee announced it will question Harry Lev, wealthy Chicago hat manufacturer, concerning a two million dollar contract he received for the manufacture of white sailors caps.

Lev, a reputed millionaire, has been named in hearsay testimony received from a business rival as the source of some alleged bribe payments. New York manufacturer Leon M. Levy has sworn he heard from Marvin Rubin, a former business hustler for both Lev and Levy, that Lev paid $50,000 to Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool to get the white cap contract in 1953.

Wool has sworn he never got the $50,000 or any bribes from any source. Wool was a uniform procurement officer before being assigned to his present post at Shelby, Ohio.

HOSPITAL WILL

Adams County production and income and their support of this project is a certainty.

"The same holds true in the case of manufacturing interests, professional and mercantile groups, the representatives of which have only completed a small part of their solicitations," it was stated.

Comments Solicitors
President Livingston expressed appreciation for the efforts of the scores of solicitors who have completed their rounds.

"The work of these people has been most gratifying and reassuring. It is the best evidence of the high standing the hospital enjoys and is clear proof of the understanding that our facilities must be renewed and enlarged in order to meet the requirements of the community hospital services."

"If those who have not contributed will do so now, even before a solicitor gets around to see them, it will greatly help the campaign. The existence of adequate hospital facilities is the responsibility of the people of Adams County. It is a job we must do for our selves. Adams county has the re-

Change Place For Coroner's Inquest

An inquest into the death of a Hanover man, fatally injured at Cross Keys on May 1, will be held in York County instead of Adams County as planned originally, Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said today.

Coroner Lester J. Sell, of York County, who last week had relinquished his right to hold the inquest into the automobile-motorcycle accident which took the life of Richard S. Smith, 29, Hanover, said that by law he had no choice but to handle the case if Dr. Crist didn't want it. He has not set a date.

Miller died in Hanover General Hospital as the result of the accident when the cycle on which he was a passenger was struck in the rear by a car driven by David J. O'Keefe, 19, Hanover.

Dr. Crist said that he had changed his mind about holding made by Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church, in the absence of Fr. William R. Lyons, Delone principal, who was ill. Diplomas and awards were presented to the graduates by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, V.F.

Monsignor Lawrence F. Schott, V.F., pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Mt. Carmel, Pa., admonished the graduates that, "now that you are ready to step into your adult life you should live the life of faith and grace. It is not a picnic grounds. This world in which you must work out your salvation is a troubled and complex world. There are threats of war and troubles at our doorstep."

Face Challenges
"This is a small world and you will find yourself facing a challenge to your religion," he cited the "high" divorce rate, juvenile delinquency, bigotry and intolerance.

"You must share the flame of faith with those who need it. You must guard the sacredness of your home, marriage and family. Stable homes are the greatest bulwark of the nation...."

Pay Debt To God

"I urge you to keep all the commandments because they are the rules of the Maker. Deepen and widen your own spiritual life. Hold every Sunday holy. Pay your debt to God. Respect manual labor and those who do it. Give God His rightful place in your life and never fail to live the life for which you have been trained."

Monsignor Patrick F. McGee, of McSherrystown, president of the Delone school board, spoke briefly. He expressed his personal congratulations and those of the other priests in the area, all of whom were present. He urged the graduates to become active in the affairs of their parish and to promote the honor and glory of God.

"Belong to and be active in Catholic societies. Be a credit to your church, your country, your school and your home."

Exercises closed with the signing of the Te Deum and the recessional march by the Delone Band.

Want to watch the gas pumps go by?

It's wonderful what Variable Pitch Propellers do for getaway AND gas savings!

Buick SPECIAL 4-Door, 6-Passenger Riviera, Model 43

Any airline pilot will tell you that one big reason for the modern plane's greatly increased cruising range aloft is the variable pitch propeller.

To get off the ground, of course, the pilot needs plenty of acceleration, for take-off and climb. So his propellers must "bite" into air at a certain angle for utmost performance. But once the plane is at cruising altitude, great power acceleration is no longer needed—fuel efficiency is. So the pilot switches the pitch of his propeller blades to high-economy angle—and gets a lot more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

That's why Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* is such a sensation everywhere. For the same aviation principle that brings this two-way magic to the modern plane is now found in the propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside the Dynaflo unit.

Just by pressing the gas pedal way down, you switch the pitch and get instantaneous getaway response or safety-surge acceleration.

Just by easing up on the pedal, you change the pitch to high-economy angle—and get new and better gas mileage in all normal driving and cruising.

It's a spectacular and sensible achievement—this new Dynaflo Drive—a brand-new thrill and a brand-new thriftness.

And with it goes the might of record-high V8 power—and the level luxury of Buick's all-coil-spring ride—and the spacious roominess of Buick's broad interiors—and the host of other advanced features that add to Buick's brimming value.

Come in and try what is very definitely the performance thrill of the year—and see for yourself why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs.

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A Lehigh University senior shot and killed himself after he was ordered to leave a room where he was taking a final examination, authorities said.
Deputy Coroner George Kametz said Sherwin P. Arons, 21, of Scarsdale, N. Y., shot himself in the head as he sat in his parked car.
Det. Ralph Flemming said Arons was taking an exam in "wills, estates and trusts" with Professor Thomas Kubelius, when the professor ordered Arons from the room for alleged cheating.
Friends who talked with Arons just before the exam on Saturday told Flemming Arons seemed concerned over the test and the fact he was to be drafted into the Army next week.

Burns Are Fatal To Young Motorist

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Irving Blum, 34, of Drexel Hill, Pa., died yesterday in Middlesex County Hospital of burns suffered when gasoline at a filling station caught fire and engulfed his car in flames.

His widow, Myra, 28, and their 2-year-old daughter Irene, burned in the fire a week ago Saturday, are at the hospital where they are recuperating.

All three sat in their parked car in a service area of the N. J. Turnpike at nearby East Brunswick when gasoline being put into an underground storage tank from a tank truck overflowed and ignited. Police said pot flares may have ignited the gasoline.

All three were pulled from the blazing car by two service station employees, Vincent Mazza, 30, of Highland Park, and Harvey Lohr, of Spotswood.

THREE RELEASED PRISONERS ON WAY TO HOMES

HONOLULU (AP)—Three of the four U.S. jet fighter pilots freed by the Chinese Communists at Hong Kong last Tuesday leave for home today with their families aboard a special Air Force plane.

They are Capt. Harold Fischer, Swea City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; and Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha.

The fourth, Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, of Wynnewood, Pa., and his wife will stay here 10 or 12 days. He is to take physiotherapy treatment for a leg injury incurred when he bailed out of his plane over North Korea.

Men Who Quit Cigarettes Cut Chance Of Lung Cancer, Study Indicates; Lack Adequate Proof

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Men who quit smoking cigarettes probably cut their risk of dying of lung cancer compared with men who keep on smoking, the American Cancer Society reported today.

The study finds the cancer death rate among a group of ex-smokers was only half that of smokers.

But society officials said that due to the small numbers of smokers and ex-smokers involved, it cannot be "proven beyond reasonable doubt" that quitting reduces the risk of lung cancer. They declared more evidence is needed.

No Cure And Effect Relation

This is a main finding in the latest report of a continuing society study of nearly 100,000 men, aged 50 to 70, and their smoking habits and what they die of.

Criticizing the statistics, Timothy V. Hartnett, chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said the study "does not establish any cause and effect relationship."

Just a year ago the first report, indicating cigarettes play a role in lung cancer, was announced by Doctors R. Cuyler Hammond and Daniel Horn, director and assistant director of the society's statistical research, at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association. That first report covered 20 months' time and deaths of nearly 5,000 men.

Some Conclusions

Today's report at the opening of the AMA's 1955 session covers 32 months and studies of deaths—whether from cancer or other causes—among more than 8,000 men.

Some of the conclusions of Hammond and Horn:

Lung cancer is rare among men who have never smoked.

The death rate from lung cancer increases with the amount of cigarettes smoked. The rate is appreciable even among men who smoke less than 10 cigarettes daily.

Regardless of whether men live in big city or rural areas, the rate is high among smokers, and low among nonsmokers.

Heart Disease And Cancer

Among men who smoke two packs or more daily, heart disease is the most common cause of death, and lung cancer is second. In these men, lung cancer accounts for one in eight deaths.

In the general male population of this same age lung cancer accounts for 1 in 30 deaths. Among these heavy smokers, lung cancer outranks accidents, brain strokes and other causes of death to take second place.

Pipe smoking "appears to be associated with lung cancer" but far less than cigarettes. Last year, little evidence had been found in this study to point to any danger in pipe smoking.

Cigar smoking still does not show any significant association with lung cancer in this study.

Speaking for the tobacco industry committee, Hartnett said, "Statistical experts point out that his study ignores important environmental, geographical, occupational, physical and emotional factors that affect disease and longevity."

He said that in his opinion "it is obvious that cancer authorities realize no link has been proven and do not accept this study in statistics as the answer to the lung cancer problem."

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Fifteen inmates who escaped from the Federal State Hospital for the Criminal Insane have been recaptured and confined to maximum security wards.

Asa L. Hickock, assistant superintendent of the hospital, identified the last of the group as Moses Ross, 24-year-old Philadelphia who surrendered last night without resistance after being surrounded in a wooded area near the hospital grounds.

Hickock said no legal action would be taken against any of the 15 who made their break Saturday morning with overpowering three guards. None of the guards were injured.

Ten prisoners were recaptured within an hour after the break and four others were taken in custody Saturday night.

Still missing are two six-inch knives which hospital guards said the escapees had with them when they left the state institution grounds.

47 ROTC GRADS

is a necessary element in our survival as a nation. As a professional military man I have watched, over a long span of time, the emotional up-and-down attitudes taken by the public toward our defense preparations. As I look on the alternating periods of feasts and famines—and mostly famines, I might add—I can't help but wish the country had more colleges where military training was required.

"In this period of long-range preparations, it is important that we have continuity in our defense efforts. The philosophy of Communism implies a continual assault upon the foundations of our society. . . . If the Communists ever find this nation weak, whether it be this year, or next year, or in the decade to come, they will strike at our vitals with the single motive of annihilation." He called for "a medium-sized standing force" and a "well-trained reserve" to meet this threat.

Two Requirements
Gen. Parks then told the new officers of the standards of leadership which they must set. He listed the two requirements for an officer as "the intelligence to learn what are the standards of an officer" and "the strength of character to live by them." He called "personal integrity" the "foundation of everything."

For those who intend to make a career of military service, he spoke of the recently-gained advantages of the profession—the increases in pay and "Operation Gyroscope," which permits "rotation with stability." This system gives the professional soldier fewer moves around, and fewer separations, thus providing the possibility of a more stable family life.

Was Here At Camp Colt
The general opened his talk with a reference to Camp Colt, Gettysburg, where he served during World War I as an officer under Lt. Col. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Kentucky-born soldier said, "Here I was, a Southern boy on my first trip up North, and I was camped on the ground where Pickett charged." He spoke of the hospitality of the town in those days, and said, "Apparently my old commander liked it up here, because he bought a farm nearby."

"The commissioning exercise opened with the playing of the prelude, Rubenstein's 'Melody in F' by M. Sgt. Elmer J. Johnson, of the college faculty, on the organ. The professional was 'March,' by Scharwenka, after which Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Gettysburg College, gave the invocation."

The speaker was introduced by Lt. Col. Eben R. Jones, professor at military science and tactics. After Gen. Parks spoke, the oath of office was administered to the 25 Army officers by Capt. Charles L. Anderson, and to the 22 Air Force officers by Major Floyd H. McKeand Jr. The program closed with the presentation of the commissions by General Parks, the playing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the organ postlude, "Prayer," by Ferdinand Hiller.

Six "Distinguished" Grads

Of the 25 ROTC graduates who were awarded Army commissions, six were honored as "distinguished." They were Donald Carl Griesel, William Reed Martin, James Francis Megee, Colin Franklin Neuhaus, Roy Pius Stoness Jr., and Edward Evan Thomas. The other nineteen were:

Donald Curtis Atkinson, Leo Barndheuer, Robert George Brazenor, Harne Glenn Burdun, Henry Emmanuel Clary, Caywood Edward Cooley, Charles Allen Covey, Edward Thaw Ferren III, Joseph Michael Krawiec, Francis Moore Lambert Jr., John Lynn Lamson, John Phillip Lipkin, John Milton Looze, Wallace Kline Rohrbach Jr., Oakford Albertus Schallck Jr., Robert Lee Silbert, John Richard Stoner, Conrad Richard Henry Sump, and Charles Donald Woodington.

Of the 22 new Air Force lieutenants, four were cited as "distinguished." They were Carl Eugene Beck, Richard Irvin Brubaker, Robert Frank Matthes, and Charles Herbert McKenzie. The remaining eighteen were:

CREDIT FOR BOWLING

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Bowling has become a regular part of the men's physical education program at the University of Dayton. The students bowl two periods a week and receive regular credits.

This is a new addition to the men's program but the women have been bowling for credit for several semesters.
